Mr. Sydney P. Noe.
New York.

Dear Sir.

I have a letter from the royal coin cabinet in Stockholm Sweden requesting me to find out if you would like to exchange numismatic books, they issue such of and on and they have the 10 first issues of your Numismatic Notes and Monographs would it be possibly for them to get the balance of those in exchange for their publications? kindly let me know also how many are they lacking.

Very truly yours
O. B. Carlsen

Mr. O. B. Carlsen
4726 Lowell Ave
Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sir:

Your note is at hand. ^{point of the} The question regarding the exchange of our publications concerning which you write, is that we already have the title submitted for exchange by the Swedish Coin Cabinet. Even if this were not the case, four of these early numbers are already out of print and we should be unable to comply with the request even if there were not the other question. The missing numbers are 2, 3, 5 and 11.

Regretting that I am unable to help you out,

Very truly yours,

Secretary.

Mr. Sydney P. Roe.
New York.

Dear Sir.

Your letter of Octb. 16 at hand.

The Swedish coin Cabinet have in their library all the early issues of "Numismatic Notes and Monographs" including 1 to 10 but lack all others from then on I notice that No. 11 is out of print but how many more have been issued and how much will it cost to get the balance from No. 12 — and up to date?
Would like to know so I can write and tell them over there.

Would you be interested in reprinting my articles on "The Coinage of the Danish West Indies" (The Numismatist 1928) and "The Coinage of Ireland and Greenland" 1929 I have tried to get the A. N. A. to publish those two articles in one book but without result so I have purchased all the cuts for the illustrations if you are interested those cuts will be at your disposal free.

Very truly yours

O. B. Carlson.
